

David Clarke

David Clarke is aged 44 and comes from Wigan in North West England. As a family man living with his wife and two young children at their home in Hertfordshire, David already has a very full and rewarding life. However, it doesn't stop there. Based on a sound academic footing, David has developed a highly successful career in the banking sector spanning 21 years having worked for HSBC, Royal Bank of Scotland and Clydesdale/Yorkshire Bank. He is currently Head of the Clydesdale Bank Business and Private Banking Centre in St Albans with responsibility for maintaining and growing the business across the Northern Home Counties

In addition David has had a very successful international football career which has seen him represent Great Britain and England's blind football team 144 times scoring a total of 128 goals.

David possesses an inner spirit and determination which inspires those around him to make the most of every opportunity and he drives himself on to achieve remarkable outcomes. He is a person who brings the concept of "a positive mental attitude" to life. David is committed to bringing financial and cultural benefits to organisations, drawing out the positive in times of adversity and building on known strengths within people individually and collectively