Terms and Conditions

General

Before completing the form, please read these notes carefully. You should also consult the specific course pages on the University's website (www.herts.ac.uk) to ensure that you are familiar with the course structure and entry requirements. Your application form may be photocopied, therefore it is important that you write neatly using black ink. Many courses have a deadline by which applications should be received. Please consult course literature or the department concerned. If there are any omissions of key information or any documents submitted in support of your application are found to be fraudulent, the University reserves the right to reject or withdraw the application/offer made or Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) issued or withdraw you from your course of study, should this be discovered after you have registered with the University. The University reserves the right not to issue a CAS, or to withdraw a CAS, where there is reason to believe that a Tier 4 application will be refused, or to someone who has intentionally become an 'overstayer', breached any visa conditions or does not meet the eligibility criteria for Tier 4. As an international student sponsored by the University under Tier 4 (General) leave, it is extremely important that you comply with the conditions associated with Tier 4 sponsorship. Further information can be found on our international web pages Tier 4 Codes of Practice www.herts.ac.uk/international

The Data Protection Act 1998

In completing and submitting your application form, you will be providing the University of Hertfordshire with personal data, including in some cases sensitive personal data, as defined in the Data Protection Act 1998. The University will use this data for the purposes of processing your application and for other administrative purposes relating to your application. The University will process this data in accordance with the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998 and with its own policies on data protection (which can be found on its main Data Protection web page at <http://www.herts.ac.uk/about-us/legal/freedom-of-information-data-protection> and in the other documents and web pages which are referred to on, and linked to from, this main web page). This personal data may also be shared with and used by third parties in connection with the above purposes, for example in order to verify your identity, qualifications, work experience and other information that you provide, or so that the University can comply with its obligations to supply certain information to the Higher Education Statistics Agency. Some of these third parties may be located outside the UK (including outside the European Economic Area). By submitting your application, you will be deemed to be giving your consent to the processing and use of your personal data as set out in this paragraph.

Important Note

The University uses all reasonable endeavours to provide its educational and other services to students in the manner set out in its prospectus and in its other relevant published materials. Should industrial action or other circumstances beyond the University of Hertfordshire's reasonable control interfere with its ability to provide these services, the University will use all reasonable endeavours to minimise any disruption caused to students. The University reserves the right to make changes to the content or methods of delivery of courses and modules, and to discontinue or merge courses or modules, in whole or in part, where the University reasonably believes that this is in the interests of the University or of students. In these circumstances, the University will notify affected students as soon as reasonably practicable and, in the case of a discontinued course or module, will where appropriate use all reasonable endeavours to offer the students a suitable alternative course or module. The University of Hertfordshire does not therefore accept any absolute obligation to provide its educational or other services in the manner set out in its prospectus or elsewhere, nor does it accept any other obligation in respect of the provision of educational or other services which is more onerous than the obligations set out in this paragraph. Any offer of a place made to you by the University of Hertfordshire will be made on the basis that, on registration, you will confirm your agreement to certain terms and conditions that will apply to you as a student at the University, including the provisions of the preceding paragraph and your agreement to comply with and be bound by the University's institutional policies, procedures and regulations (UPRs) in force from time to time, the current version of which can be found at www.herts.ac.uk/upr
