

Getting to the University

Make your way to the Gatwick Airport Railway Station located at the South Terminal > Take the train to Finsbury Park Station > Change at Finsbury park and take the train to Hatfield Station > Take any Uno bus from outside the station (making sure to check the direction of the bus) > Exit at the University of Hertfordshire College Lane or de Havilland campus

Follow signage to Heathrow Underground Station > Take the Piccadilly Line to London King's Cross Underground Station > Follow signage to London King's Cross Overground Station > Take the train to Hatfield Station > Take any Uno bus from outside the station (making sure to check the direction of the bus) > Exit at the University of Hertfordshire College Lane or de Havilland campus

Walk to Stansted Airport Railway Station, located directly below the terminals > Take the train to Tottenham Hale Station > Make your way to the Underground station in Tottenham Hale > Take a Victoria Line train to Finsbury Park > Change at Finsbury Park and take an overground train to Hatfield Station > Take any Uno bus from outside the station (making sure to check the direction of the bus) > Exit at the University of Hertfordshire College Lane or de Havilland campus

Take the shuttle bus from Luton Airport to Luton Airport Parkway Railway Station > Take the train to London St Pancras International Railway Station > Follow signage to London King's Cross Railway Station (either via the tunnel that connects the two stations, or by exiting the station at street level and crossing the road to King's Cross) > Take the overground rail to Hatfield Station > Take any Uno bus from outside the station (making sure to check the direction of the bus) > Exit at the University of Hertfordshire College Lane or de Havilland campus